WILSON WORRIED
OVER RESULT IN
MAINE ELECTIONIntimates That Democrats Have
Been to Sure of Winning
and Loafing on the Job

CONTRIBUTIONS COME FASTER

By Robert J. Bender

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Long Branch, N. J.—The Maine election has thrown a bomb into the contribution to the Democratic campaign fund and according to leaders of the campaign "just about what the party needed at this time." President Wilson found all this awakening when he resumed his work at Shadow Lawn today.

Chairman McCormick, Postmaster General Burleson, Secretary McAdoo and Secretary Tumulty all seemed well pleased and are planning an extensive campaign. During the last two days subscriptions to the campaign fund range from $1 to $100 or at the rate of $8,000 per day. An effort is being made to put "action and pep" into the campaign. President Wilson is not sure whether he will take a personal part in it owing to the uncertainty of his sister's illness.

Asbury Park N. J. Sept. 14.—President Wilson today discussed the political outlook with party leaders in the executive's office—Postmaster General Burleson, Secretary McAdoo, and Secretary Tumulty. The President discussed the situation for the first time since the Maine election. The President stated that the results of the Maine election should arouse the Democrats throughout the country to action. An air of optimism invaded the conference. Today marked the opening of the President's new office at Asbury Park. The office is very simple, there are no rugs on the floor, the chairs are of the plainest as for his desk and swivel chair. They are all rented.

BRITISH COLUMBIA ELECTION.

Vancouver, B. C., Sept. 14.—The people of British Columbia are voting today as to whether the Bowser administration shall be continued in power or be replaced by a government in control of the Liberals. The contest, which has dragged along for more than a year, has been, in the language of Premier Bowser himself, "the dirtiest campaign in the history of this province." Charges of fraud, corruption and mismanagement of public affairs have been hurled back and forth, while the energy displayed on both sides has been out of all proportion to the issues involved.

At the present time the Conservatives are in control of the Provincial legislature by a large majority. The recent by-elections, however, resulted in the return of Liberal members, which encouraged the opposition to put forth their best efforts to win a victory in the general election. The Socialists also have been working with might and main to increase their representation in the legislature, where they have already secured a substantial foothold.

HELLO GIRL'S RECORD OF CALLS MADE IN 24 YEARS

Columbus, Ohio, Sept. 14.—(By United Press)—Two million, four hundred thousand conversations on love, business, gossip and whatnot is the record today of Miss Nell Taylor in the 24 years' continuous service as a hello girl here.

The first eight years she spent at the switchboard handling calls at the rate of 1,000 a day. She spent another eight years as supervisor, answering foolish questions.

"Will you marry me?" she says, is the silliest and most frequent question asked. She still is single and glad of it.

When she started to work 24 years ago Miss Taylor was 15. There were only 1550 telephones in Columbus then, as compared to 45,000 today.

The trade of the United States with Mexico is the largest in history, the value of imports showing a big increase, though exports to Mexico are not so large. With the return of stable conditions in Mexico our trade should greatly increase.

PITIFUL STORY

BY WITNESSESOsceola Woman Temporarily

Children--Is Deaf Mute

CHILDREN TAKEN FROM HER

Judge Bell appointed A. Lee Edwards, Esq., Dr. A. C. Lynn and Squire Frank H. McCully a committee to inquire into the sanity of Mrs. Margaret Shannon, of Osceola, incident to proceedings brought by District Attorney Welch last Saturday.

Mrs. Shannon, a deaf mute and the mother of eleven children, six of whom are living, is feeble minded and according to the story of her neighbors, whose importunities moved the District Attorney to action, abused and neglected her children grossly and shamefully. Her husband is a carpenter and his work kept him away from home a great deal and during his absence the poor demented woman made life a veritable hell on earth for the little ones, all of whom are under fourteen years of age.

A part of the story was told the court and moved the spectators to tears and the appointment of the commission, which was requested by the husband followed. Pending the finding and report of the court the children will be taken in charge by the authorities and will later be placed in some home or institution.

"POOR LITTLE RICH GIRL"
GETS HOME AT LAST

Mrs. George S. Parker, Romona Borden, daughter of the millionaire Gail Borden, married George S. Parker of Anderson, Ind., at Los Angeles the other day and thereby at last acquired a home. Three years ago, when seventeen years old, she ran away from a sanitarium in New Jersey with two Washington women and was later found in Boston. Because of differences between her father and mother she has not spent a great deal of time with either.

COURT NOTES.

In the case of Jack Henry who was suing D. W. Anderson for $700 claiming this amount to be due him on a timber contract, the jury returned a verdict in favor of Mr. Henry in the sum of $700 with interest to date amounting to over $100.

As we go to press the case of Frank Cimo, a local fruit merchant who is being sued by a DuBois wholesale house is occupying the attention of the court.

THIRD DAY OF FAIR
IS ON WITH A BIG
VISITING LISTEvery Train Brings Throngs to

Offered by Management

Ball Game Was Very Warmly Contested and Phillipsburg went Down To Defeat—Mahaffey and Tyrone Play Here Tomorrow—Will be Good Game.

The second day of the Clearfield County Fair moved off without a hitch and with all attractions on the ground and in working order. Visitors to Clearfield are all very complimentary to the fair management on the straight forward way in which the fair is being conducted and it augers well for the future success of the fair and the probability of it being an annual institution.

It takes more than the management of a county fair to make it a success. All must pull together. Every farmer who has a nice specimen of animal life or a fine product should bring it in to the fair for the general good that it does for agriculture. Every citizen of Clearfield who has anything that would be interesting to show to somebody else is not boosting the fair unless he takes it to the fair grounds and places it on exhibition.

As we go to press the third day of the new fair is drawing to a close and it looks now as though we could safely say that the Fair has been a success. All attractions scheduled have been shown and there is commendation on every hand for the New County Fair.

The ball game yesterday was very hotly contested and while it was somewhat marred by pugilistic tactics on the part of those in the game it was thoroughly enjoyed by all. Clearfield won by a score of 7 to 3 and the score is as follows:

LORIMER FAILS

Defeats His Preacher Opponent in easy Contest

HEAVY REP. VOTE IN ILLINOIS

Chicago, Sept. 11.—(By United Press)—Former United States Senator, William Lorimer has fallen down in his "come back" race for congress today in complete returns early today from yesterday's state primaries showing he had lost to Arthur W. Fulton in the Republican congressional race in the Sixth District by about 1,000 votes.

"I admit defeat, it is the fortunes of the game," said Lorimer. "I have nothing to say—nothing to charge, I only wish I had won."

James R. Mann, Republican leader in the national house, swamped his preacher opponent, Rev. H. T. Boynton, in the Second Congressional district fight by a plurality of about 15,000. In the gubernatorial race Governor Dunne, Democrat and Col Lowden, Republican, were according to election returns today, certain that Dunne's plurality throughout the state amounted to 90,000. Lowden is the Republican nominee for governor at an estimate plurality of 100,000. The estimate of the total vote in Illinois indicate that more than 640,000 were cast. 400,000 by Republicans and 240,000 by Democrats. Approximately, 38,000 women cast their vote in yesterday election. The reason for the light vote cast being that women were allowed to vote mostly for local offices only. State returns indicate that Dunne's total vote is 153,000 and Lowden's 220,000.

LABOR CAN'T BE BOUGHT.

The defeat of Daniel J. McGillicuddy Democratic congressman from the Second District of Maine, is the first opportunity the people, and especially the labor men, have had to express their opinion of Mr. Wilson's course in compelling Congress to enact the Railway Wage increase bill. Mr. McGillicuddy was a labor candidate, thrice elected by labor votes and he voted for the Wilson-Adamson bill, but that certainly did not save him. Of his defeat, the New York Times, which is supporting President Wilson, says: "The lesson is evident. The labor vote is cast just as other votes are cast. Trucking to it, abusing one's party before it, does not win. The mechanics of Bath and Auburn voted on the issues of the day, just as did the farmers of Oxford county. Mr. Hughes' denunciation of the strike settlement, even his apparent hostility to the eight-hour principle, did not avail to arouse the unions of Sagadahoc against him." Of course the Times knows Mr. Hughes is not opposed to the eight-hour principle. As Governor he was strongly for it. What he does oppose is a simple effort to secure increased pay masquerading as a promotion of the eight-hour principle.

ENG. RETREAT FROM STRUMA

Paris, Sept. 14.—(By United Press)—"A lasting and durable peace is assured by the allied victories which are making the Teutons only stand a defensive," Premier Briand declared today in reviewing before the Chamber of Deputies that more power has been gained since the last session—"the intervention of Roumania and Italy's declaration of war against Germany has completed the solidarity of the action of the allies against the Teutons." The allies are invading Greece merely to protect their expedition corps and for the conservation of Greece itself.

London, Sept. 14.—(By United Press)—Military leaders of the Central powers are planning a strong Balkan offensive according to dispatches received here today. The plan which was formulated at the Kaiser's war convention in Berlin today will favor the sending of 2,000 Germans and 1,000 Austrians to the southeast front.

The German press bureau has announced that the Germans are planning an offensive along Macedonia, and are ready to attack Serbian and Italian forces. AL. H. WILSON PLEASED

With that pleasing bit of Irish and humor and Irish song from Killarney Rose, the operatic for Clearfield was opened a week. It is not too late to say that Al. Wilson pleased his audience last week with his delightful rendered Irish love songs. On account of the very warm evening the fact that there were so many other attractions in town the house was not exceptionally large but was comfortably filled and entertainment was of the high class and merit. The singing of H. Wilson is the kind that you wish with its charm, sweetness and mirthful melody.

THE NEW YORK STRIKE.

New York Sept. 14.—(By United Press)—While reports were given in that five street cars being operated by strike breakers were filled to grade with nine persons injured, traction company representatives refused to arbitrate their dispute with the unionists. A general held this morning in which thousands of union men marched in support of the fight for the end of their organization. A band led the parade which marched down Eighth street to Union Square where a mass meeting was held. The police report that 7,000 were in the parade while the unionists claim there were more. Today marked the end of weeks of striking and settlement is apparently as far off as when on the first day the workmen refused to work.

IF BACKACHE OR KIDNEYS BOTHER

Eat Less Meat Also Take Glass of Salts Before Eating Breakfast

Uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish, ache, and feel like lumps of lead. The urine becomes cloudy; the bladder is irritated, and you may be obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night. When the kidneys clog you must help them flush off the body's urinous waste or you'll be a real sick person shortly. At first you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, you suffer from backache, sick headache, dizziness, stomach gets sour, tongue coated and you feel rheumatic twinges when the weather is bad.

Eat less meat, drink lots of water; also get from any pharmacist four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity, also to neutralize the acids in the urine, so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active. Druggists, here say they sell lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble.

Don't Crowd Your Ad.

By BREEN.

Some advertisers make the mistake of trying to crowd a page of type into a few inches.

Display your ad. Make it catchy.

If you buy a few inches in a newspaper don't try to make them carry a couple of hundred words. Newspaper readers will not wear strong glasses to read small type.

When you decide to advertise a certain article pick out its best points. Then briefly tell what they are. Emphasize in big type.

Then you'll get results.

EMPTY PHRASES INSTEAD OF CONCRETE ACTION.

Not once has President Wilson squarely placed before the American people the question which Abraham Lincoln put before the American people in 1860; what is our duty? Not once has he appealed to moral idealism, to the stern enthusiasm of strong men for the right. On the contrary, he has employed every elocutionary device to lull to sleep our sense of duty, to make us content with words instead of deeds, to make our moral idealism and enthusiasm evaporate in empty phrases instead of being reduced to concrete action.—From the speech of Col. Theodore Roosevelt, delivered at Lewiston, Maine, in behalf of Charles E. Hughes.

Telling Tariff Points

Let these telling points on tariff and protection in the speech by Charles Evans Hughes, the Republican candidate for President, delivered in the Salt Lake Tabernacle, be fixed permanently in your mind and memory during the remainder of the campaign:

We are desirous of having strong and sure the foundations of our national greatness in this pursuit of competition among the nations which is sure to follow the cessation of the present struggle.

I presume that the Republican party as the national party, according to the constitution of the United States, within the national sphere, shall proceed wherever it is practicable, to build up and foster and encourage American enterprise, and open the doors wide for honest American achievement.

Then came the Underwood tariff bill itself. What was the result? Enterprise lapsed and there was a construction of trade throughout the land, and America, instead of going ahead, stopped. That is what happened. Three hundred thousand were unemployed in the City of New York. There was not a city in this land where the jobless man walked the street. They were fed by our charitable organizations, which were taxed to the utmost limit to provide for those for whom American enterprise could no longer make provision. It was a sad spectacle. Americans have not forgotten it. It is not forgotten here or anywhere. It cannot be forgotten. It is too recent.

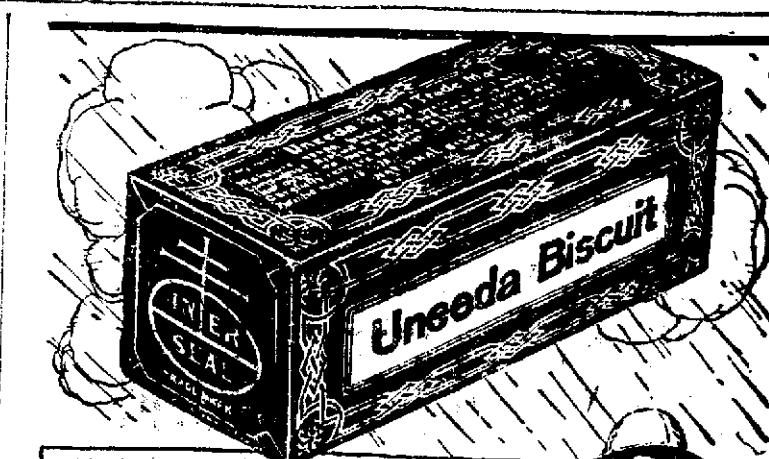

If you are going to have the basis for prosperity in this country; if you are going to protect the American wage scale; if you are going to have American enterprise able to meet the competition which will follow the ending of this war, you must have an honestly devised, wisely framed tariff law to protect American industry.

No, the Democratic party will not be saved by the European war. If you would know what our condition will be when the war ends, think of what our condition was before that war began. If you think these nations are so impoverished that they cannot again turn to work. Those millions of men now fighting are better able to work than ever before in their lives. * * * Their factories are there; their plants are there; they know themselves better than ever before. They are better disciplined, more alert, keener, stronger, better physically than ever before, in the main, and they are ready to turn great national energies into the pursuits of peace to pay their war bills, to produce up to the limit, to send their goods throughout the world.

I propose that we shall study this out, applying a principle that we believe in, and secure intelligently and honestly adequate protection to American industries in every part of this land.

WHY HUGHES IS NEEDED IN THIS TREMENDOUS CRISIS.

Against Mr. Wilson's combination of grace in education with facility in action against his record of words unbacked by deeds or backed by deeds, we see Mr. Hughes' rugged and uncompromising straightforwardness of character and action in every office he has held. We put the man who thinks and speaks directly, and whose words have always been made good, against the man whose adroit and facile eloquence is used to conceal his plans or his want of plans. The next four years may well be years of tremendous national strain. Which of the two men do you, the American people, wish at the helm during those four years; the man who has been actually tried and found wanting, or the man whose whole career in public office is a guarantee of his power and good faith? But one answer is possible and it must be given by the American people throughout the United States.—From speech of Col. Theodore Roosevelt, delivered at Lewiston, Maine, in behalf of Charles E. Hughes.

RAIN or shine, winter or summer, each Unseda biscuit is crisp, flaky, full of nutriment, fresh and tempting as the minute it left the oven.

From each opened box of Unseda Biscuit there comes that wonderfully appetizing odor of fresh-baked biscuit.

WILSON KISSED THE HAND RED WITH AMERICAN BLOOD.

President Wilson explicitly shows that the Carranzistas, not once but repeatedly, made attacks on American towns, and killed American citizens, and mutilated them in September, 1915. Yet on October 19th, 1915, less than a month later, this same President Wilson, through his same Secretary of State, formally announced to Carranza's agent that it was his "pleasure" to take the opportunity of extending recognition to the de facto government of Mexico, of which General Venustiano Carranza is the chief executive. President Wilson thus recognized the government which, his own Secretary of State declares, had been less than a month previously engaged in repeated assaults upon Americans, and in the invasion of American soil, the government at whose head was General Carranza, who, less than two months previously, on August 2nd, 1915, had contemptuously refused to pay any heed to any representations of President Wilson on behalf of mediation, saying that "under no consideration would I permit interference in the internal affairs of Mexico." President Wilson did not merely kiss the hand that slapped him in the face. He kissed that hand when it was red with the blood of American men, women and children, who had been murdered and mutilated with, as President Wilson, through his Secretary of State, says, "unfathomable brutality."—From the speech of Col. Theodore Roosevelt, delivered at Lewiston, Maine, in behalf of Charles E. Hughes.

(N. Y.) SUN STROKES.

Roger Sullivan steps aside.—News-peter headline.

Students of Democratic politics know what a thin line divides a stepping aside and a snuffing out.

The Democrats seem to realize, to their dismay, that if they can't persuade Mr. Hughes to change from plaintiff to defendant the case is lost.

The President will not take the "strong" but will accept invitations to speak at different places. Chairman Vance determined as Mr. McMillan as a matter of fact.

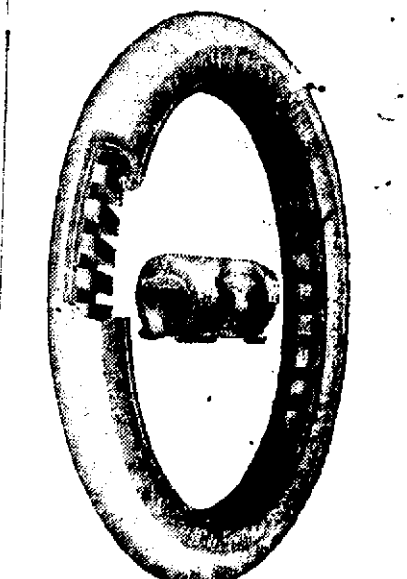

It is not what Wilson has kept out of, but what he has put into the national present.

TRUTHFUL CHAMP CLARK.

"We got whipped, and I guess that is all I will say about the Maine election. We got beaten good and plenty." This is the statement of Champ Clark, Democratic speaker of the House, a statement as honest and truthful as the sophistical distortions of Chairman Vance McCormick, Josephus Daniels and other illustrious Democrats are the reverse. Senator Vardaman of Mississippi appears to have lost his temper over the result and to find an outlet for his ill-nature in abusing the Progressives. His comment on the Maine election is characteristic. He says, "The Progressive sow has returned to her wallow." Judging by the comments of Progressives in New York, Mr. Vardaman has done nothing to make votes for Mr. Wilson among any Progressives who may have been undetermined as to how they would vote by his calling the Progressives swine, even though he may be credited with frankness in thus bluntly expressing the sentiment which Wilsonites generally entertain for the Progressives.

A WILSON GOLD BRICK.

"I sign this bill with real emotion because I know what it means to the health and vigor of the country and to the happiness of those whom it affects. It is with genuine pride that I play my part in completing this legislation. I congratulate the country and felicitate myself." This was the statement of President Wilson as, seated before the movie camera, he signed the Child Labor Bill. And now the bill he signed proves to be a fraud and a fake. It forbids shipment out of a state of the product of a cannery, mill, factory, etc., "in which, within thirty days prior to the removal of such product" from the cannery, factory or mill, etc., children have been employed or permitted to work. Therefore, all the canner, mill operator or manufacturer need do is to hold his product of child labor for thirty days and he can ship it where he pleases. There is nothing in the law to prevent. To canneries, which employ great numbers of children, this law will prove especially convenient. Canneries pack their product during an extremely short season. Under Mr. Wilson's widely advertised Child Labor Law, they can pursue their normal course and need only follow their customary practice of holding their goods thirty days before shipment, to escape the prohibition of the law. It was one of Mr. Wilson's Democratic henchmen in the Senate who substituted this provision for the really effective provision which had been adopted in the house. The effort of the Wilson administration to deceive the public into believing that the Democratic administration had passed and the President had signed a real Child Labor Law, when in fact it has done nothing of the kind, has served to recall the fact that before he entered the White House Mr. Wilson denounced the utilization of the commerce clause of the Constitution to regulate child labor in the most scathing terms, and serves to confirm the Republican contention that he had fathered a fake bill merely to gain votes on election day.

CURWENSVILLE NEWS

Mrs. J. G. Fullerton attended the funeral of James Dumbleton at Philipsburg yesterday.

Mr. Sanford, division superintendent of the Adams Express company, visited the office here yesterday.

Douglas Dunsmore is home for a short visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alex Dunsmore, Meadow street.

Messrs. Walter Fullerton and Joseph Vesco have returned from their Canadian trip. On their way back they stopped over at Detroit and visited the Ford automobile works.

Messrs. Clyde Gates and Harry Kittleberger, employees of the Curwensville Plumbing and Heating company, are at McGees Mills this week installing a heating furnace and bath room for a resident of that place.

Governor Brumbaugh and his party passed through Curwensville yesterday morning between the hours of eight and nine o'clock. Some of the motors did not hold down exactly to the borough speed limit. The party were enroute to Pottsville.

William Wilson, secretary of labor in President Wilson's cabinet, accompanied by several ladies, arrived in Curwensville yesterday forenoon and stopped at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Dunsmore, on Meadow street. Mr. Wilson is a brother of Mrs. Dunsmore.

Curwensville has almost repopulated yesterday owing to the fact that so many people went to the county seat to attend the second day of the big and attractive fair. A large crowd will also meander in that direction today to be present at the last and biggest day of the exhibition.

James F. Rider has branched out in the coal trade. He delivers from the Addleman bank, and there is no better coal to be had for home use in this vicinity. He is having a phone installed at his home where persons who are in need of coal can easily reach him. A fair trial is all that he asks.

"Squire John A. Dale is one of the busiest men in Curwensville and takes care of many responsible trusts. He is secretary of the Red Men's lodge, the Knights of Pythias, clerk of the council and secretary of the building and loan association, besides being administrator, guardian, executor and a number of other things that require accurate clerical work.

Today, at about eleven o'clock, Dugan Bennett, and Miss Ruth McElhiney, both of Mahaffey, were united in the bonds of wedlock, at the parlors of the Lutheran parsonage, by Rev. Hawkins, pastor of the Grace Lutheran church. In the evening at Hartfeld, led a young lady of his choice to the altar and was wedded by the same minister. At this writing we were unable to obtain the name of the bride.

Boyd Farley, who spent several days this week visiting his parents, went to Philipsburg yesterday morning where he was joined by his fiancée and together they proceeded to Philipsburg and were quietly married yesterday afternoon. The young couple will go immediately to Akron, O., where Mr. Farley has a home. Miss Edie Klett, of Philipsburg, and quite well known in Curwensville, as having lived here during the time her father, Samuel Klett, kept the Fillet street restaurant.

The cleaning up process throughout the town is still going on, and another week's time the job will be completed as far as the private citizen can accomplish it. The Herald and Progress both deserve some credit for the part they took in agitating this clean-up movement so that it became general so that it did not rest altogether on the shoulders of the board of health and borough council. There are yet some spots that need attention, and the sooner that the garbage and filth is removed the better it will be for all concerned.

An unwarranted report was circulating along the street line last evening that Curwensville would soon be close on the heels of a water famine. Unless Providence intervened soon, and re-filled the stream of Anderson's creek. In tracing the report to a finish, your correspondent found out from a most reliable source that there was nothing to it, and the patrons of the line need have no fear of anything like that happening for a long time, if ever. There is yet a good supply in the reservoir and more held in reserve where it came from. A good many towns are suffering for sufficient water, but Curwensville is not numbered with any of them.

The question of a scarcity of dwelling houses in Curwensville was never more forcibly illustrated to the writer than when he had an occasion to visit an office of a man last evening who handles the renting of properties. In less than an hour he had application for ten houses, and was unable to furnish a single one. He stated that hardly a day passes but what one to four persons do not call and inquire of him for empty houses. Three years ago Curwensville had houses aplenty for everybody, but today the supply of empties is inadequate. In this town there are more than a dozen men who have surplus capital, and from a financial point of view, they could not invest their coin to a more profitable advantage. Get busy and build eight or ten double houses for rent.

THE RIGHTS OF AMERICAN CITIZENS DO NOT STOP AT THE COAST LINE.

"When I say that I am an American citizen, I ought to say the proudest thing that any man can say in this world. But you can't have that pride if American citizenship is a cheap thing, if it is not worthy of protection this wide world over. There is no man who could successfully present to an American community the platform that an American citizen's rights stop at the coast line and that beyond that American life is to be the prey of any marauder who chooses to take it."—From a speech of Mr. Hughes in the West.

TELL HOW WOMEN VOTERS WILL CONTROL POLITICS

Congressional Union Leaders Explain the Movement in Opposition to President Wilson.

Just how the decision of the women's party to oppose President Wilson for re-election is expected to change the national political situation was explained in a statement by suffrage leaders at the headquarters of the Congressional Union for Women's Suffrage at Washington.

It was pointed out that unless he wins the West the defeat of Mr. Wilson "seems inevitable."

Needed to Offset Loss of Ohio. To counteract the loss of Ohio alone, which, judging from indications at the primaries, will go with its twenty-four electoral votes to the Republican camp, the Democrats will have to win in the West, California, with its thirteen electoral votes; Nevada, with three; Colorado, with six, and Arizona, with three, women's party representatives here asserted.

"In Idaho the Progressive party is dissolved," they continue, "so that the Democrats will have to work hard to get any electoral votes there. Illinois is practically conceded to the Republicans. In the view of women's party members, three-fourths or more of the Progressives there having returned to the Republican ranks.

Conditions in Other States. "In Kansas the Progressives and Republicans are practically one again. In Montana there is great dissatisfaction over the proposed Democratic tax on copper. Oregon and Washington are expected to go Republican. These two states were hit hard by the Panama Canal tolls act and the Democratic tariff is seriously felt by the lumber industry there. Utah is considered safe by the Republicans. In Wyoming the Progressives and Republicans have joined hands."

Why

Excessive upkeep

When the venerable American bird on the back of that shiny-piece in your pocket cries out against the high cost of flivving, you wanta adjust your goggles, pull down your vest and look the matter squarely in its good eye. Poor lubrication, with its direct relation to so many car-troubles, is the first line of trenches to be taken in the Battle against Excessive Upkeep.

Just as Atlantic Gasoline, the accepted standard, was the answer to your fuel problems, so Atlantic Motor Oils are the answer to your lubrication problems.

For eight out of ten cars, Atlantic Polarine is exactly right. Under certain conditions, and with certain types of motors, one of the other three principal motor oils—Atlantic "Light," Atlantic "Medium" or Atlantic "Heavy"—may give better results. Your garageman will tell you which to use. The important thing to nail to your memory is that one of these four oils, at any rate, is the correct lubricant for your particular car. This statement is backed by a corps of oil experts in the employ of the oldest and largest lubricant manufacturers in the whole world. They know oils, and they know cars, too. Better take their advice and use Atlantic Motor Oils.

Read up on this subject. We have published a handsome and comprehensive book about lubrication. It is free. Ask your garage for it. If they cannot supply you drop us a postal and the book will be sent you without charge.

OPEN EVENINGS UNTIL 9 O'CLOCK.

Clearfield, Penna.

By Hamilton

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

New York, Sept. 14.—John K. Tener, president of the National League, is one man who doesn't understand why every young pitcher who goes into the big leagues is admonished, even after he becomes a veteran, "take your time."

"The best of the pitchers, men who have made baseball history, did not do it," Tener said today, "and if there is any thing in following an effective man's method to gain the same sort of effectiveness, the young pitcher is gaining nothing by taking his time."

Tener pointed out that when a pitcher begins to grow nervous, when the opposition begins to pick the ball for base hits, the fans begin to roar:

"Take your time!"

"And it was not done by any of the famous pitchers," he said.

By way of proving his contention Tener picked out Radbourne, McGinnity, Mathewson, Rube, Rucker, Miner Brown, and Alexander, present day marvel.

"They all worked fast," he said. "Mathewson was one of the fastest workers I ever saw and McGinnity, Radbourne and Rube were all speedy workers. Alexander, who holds a world record for shutout victories in one season, is a fast worker."

"Perhaps, if the fans were aware of these facts they might cry out for the pitcher to speed up when the game went wrong."

Tener was quite a marvel as a pitcher himself back in the days when baseball was just beginning to make its popularity reach a high spot. So he was asked how he worked.

"Well," he replied, "I wasn't a speedy pitcher, but I noticed that I always worked better when I worked fast."

Tener made no attempt to give a reason for the effectiveness of the pitcher who worked fast, but he admitted that a great many slow working pitchers, probably, are just as effective as the men who fire rapidly from the mound.

"I never took the trouble to notice any slow pitching men and study their effectiveness as a class," he said. "However, I have noticed that a great many of those who took their time on the mound didn't last a long time in the big show. I guess their arms got colder than if they worked with some 'pep'."

So, if Tener's judgment is worth anything it might be well for the rookie pitcher to study effectiveness while working at a fast pace. Anyway, he will have the consolation of knowing that some of the game's greatest workers were men who used rapid fire tactics in putting the ball up to the batter.

Heinie Zimmerman, who recently was traded to the New York Giants by the Cubs, declares he is supremely happy in his new surroundings. Heinie is a resident of New York and probably would rather play at the Polo grounds, where he is idolized to a certain extent by Bronx fans.

Mike Mowery, who was unconditionally released by the Pirates, and then was taken up by the Dodgers, is playing the best baseball of his career. He is fielding like a demon and hit hitting has been at the most opportune moments.

TAFT AT 60TH MILESTONE.

New Haven, Conn., Sept. 14.—William H. So far as is known he does not intend to take any active part in the present national campaign.

FOR CONVENTION OF HORSEMEN

Syracuse, N. Y., Sept. 14.—A proposal to hold a great convention of horsemen to consider problems of common interest and concern was presented here today at the annual meeting of the New York State Association of Horsemen. The convention, which probably will be held later in the fall, will be for the purpose of discussing improved highways, questions of breeding, traffic problems and a variety of other subjects affecting the interests of the horsemen.

Pity the Man Who Doesn't Advertise!

By ETEEN.

"I have an established business. I don't require advertising."

That is the answer of some self satisfied man to a request for advertising. Meanwhile his progressive neighbor is using printer's ink lavishly.

The result is obvious. It's only a question of time. The self satisfied business man soon finds his trade disappearing. His progressive neighbor goes ahead with leaps and bounds. Every business, no matter how firmly established, needs advertising. If it isn't advertised it soon will be in a rut. Don't get in a rut. Advertise.

THAT FULL DINNER PAID.

Relaying foolishly upon the full dinner pail to accomplish for them what it has so often accomplished for the Republican party, the Democrats proceed to pile extravagance upon extravagance and to make flabby claims of being at peace, even when we are at war, says the Detroit Journal.

For the dinner pail has been filled with munition money, which presently must be supplanted by the true coinage of protected American industry after the war.

And while the dinner pail is full, observe with what inflated foods. This administration promised the worker a lower cost of living. But, as a matter of fact, to the worker Democratic prosperity is a false prosperity. It is a mirage.

Every man with a dinner pail knows that, unless his wages have been increased 20 per cent. under Democratic munition prosperity, he is poorer than he was four years ago. For Wilson rents are from 20 to 40 per cent. higher; the Wilson meat, the Wilson sugar and the Wilson wool are 40 per cent. higher, and the Wilson steel and tin and household goods are from 20 to 40 per cent. higher.

The Wilson bread has advanced faster than the Wilson wage, and the Wilson taxes have risen higher than the Wilson prosperity.

Democracy may have enriched the munition manufacturer, but has it enriched the worker, whose cost of living has increased faster than his earnings?

If the Administration can re-elect itself on the ground that the worker is obliged to move out of his home into an inferior one, or has to double up in tenements and to take in boarders to make up for his loss of economic advantage under the present increased cost of living, then there is no reason why the Administration should not be as extravagant in its taxes as it chooses.

ONE YEAR AGO IN THE WAR.

Sept. 14, 1916.—Russian offensive along Sereth forced Russians across Strypa; Violent artillery fighting on both sides of the German angle in France; Allies' aviators bombarded German barracks in Belgium, France and Lorraine; German Government declared evidence pointed to destruction of Hesperian by a mine, not by a German submarine.

The Flag and the Man.

ARIZONA MURDERER TO HANG.

Phoenix, Ariz., Sept. 14.—After battling in the courts for three years in a futile effort to escape the noose, Robert Talley, convicted of murder, is to be executed in the state prison tomorrow unless granted a further respite by action of the state board of pardons.

Talley's crime was the murder of Jesse Danner in Miami in 1913. The victim of the tragedy was the father of the girl with whom Talley was infatuated. The attentions of Talley to his daughter were discouraged by Danner and he sent the girl to El Paso in order to remove her from Talley's influence.

The night of the shooting, Talley learned that his former sweetheart had been married the day before in El Paso. Returning to his home Talley procured his gun and started out to find Danner. Meeting his victim in the main street of the town Talley opened fire and mortally wounded Danner.

FOOD COMPANY ACCUSED.

Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 14.—Hearings are to begin before the Federal Trade Commission here today on a complaint recently issued against the Shredded Wheat company of Niagara Falls. The complaint was brought by the Ross Food company which alleges that the Niagara Falls concern sought to force it out of business.

Big Business Recognizes Publicity

By ETEEN.

In latter years the biggest enterprises in this country have recognized the value of advertising. The charge of the advertising campaigns are splendid places. No branch of the business receives more publicity and advertising from the keynote of success.

If big business and advertising doesn't, what business need it?

Every man in business needs advertising. If his business is a success he needs advertising to keep it so. If his business is struggling, advertising is the only way to keep it up.

COTTON MEN IN ARREST.

New London, Conn., Sept. 14.—Members of the National Association of Cotton Manufacturers are here today for their annual meeting. Many important sessions of the cotton industry have been held for the three days' session, the chief social event of the meeting a banquet has been arranged for tomorrow night at the Hotel Wald.

Fall Opening

Complete Exhibit of What's Stylish, Beautiful and Worthy In Autumn
Millinery, Garments and Fabrics

Friday Evening, September 15, From 7:30 to 10

Thayer's Orchestra will entertain you on Friday Evening. Opening continues Saturday, Sep. 16.
Everyone is cordially invited to attend this unfolding of Fall Styles.

Stepping From The Book of Fashion---Fall Season's Most Distinguished Examples

Inspired by our keen desire to at once create even more enthusiasm than developed on the first day of our Fall Opening Display of a year ago, we have this year elaborated upon it, first by broadening the number of authentic models in apparel and second by showing greater distinction and novelty features in the examples around which closely clings that unmistakable air which marks an epoch in this important series of Annual Events.

The effort has, we believe, been wholly successful and we submit the results to you confidently. Modes which, on mature deliberation were not considered worthy because lacking the strength of new and featured touches, were discarded and many so-called "popular" ideas were rejected in favor of models whose greater distinctiveness was readily apparent. Therefore, we say in the large print above "Stepping From the Book of Fashion Here Are the Fall Season's Most Distinguished Examples." Welcome to the Showing.

COATS WHOSE GRACEFUL LINES REVEAL RARE DISTINCTION.

Coats and wraps for dress, street, motor and traveling wear in a large selection of attractive fabrics such as Bolivia cloth, Hindu Lynx, Velours, Plush mixtures, plaids and checks, in the swinging loose models, with full flare skirts, large collars, some are trimmed with fur. You couldn't spend a few moments or a half hour to better advantage for it's indeed a beauty show.

SUITS WHOSE STYLE FEATURES ARE UNUSUALLY SMART.

Every model presents a new style thought. Flaring peplums on coats, new sleeves, novel belts, full flares and pleated skirts, some have new novelty pockets, in the rich fall styles such as green, blue, brown, plum, burgandy, black, etc. Broadcloth, gaberdine, poplin, serge check and plain velours are some of the materials. Heart to Heart Talk

This is a store of action as well as words—a store where no false note is struck to inspire a confidence which may afterward be shaken perhaps through our failure to live up to the proposed purpose and intent.

Only by doing can we expect to proceed and progress. Performance is the thing that counts. Activity accomplishes. Inaction means reaction. To carry out the thought means to carry forward the business. Unless this store inspires confidence by its words—and maintains it by action afterward—it is on the wrong track and had best turn back without delay. This is a Store of Action as well as Words.

WILSON WORRIED
OVER RESULT IN
MAINE ELECTIONIntimates That Democrats Have
Been to Sure of Winning
and Loafing on the Job

CONTRIBUTIONS COME FASTER

By Robert J. Bender

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Long Branch, N. J.—The Maine election has thrown a bomb into the contribution to the Democratic campaign fund and according to leaders of the campaign "just about what the party needed at this time." President Wilson found all this awakening when he resumed his work at Shadow Lawn today.

Chairman McCormick, Postmaster General Burleson, Secretary McAdoo and Secretary Tumulty all seemed well pleased and are planning an extensive campaign. During the last two days subscriptions to the campaign fund range from $1 to $100 or at the rate of $8,000 per day. An effort is being made to put "action and pep" into the campaign. President Wilson is not sure whether he will take a personal part in it owing to the uncertainty of his sister's illness.

Asbury Park N. J. Sept. 14.—President Wilson today discussed the political outlook with party leaders in the executive's office. Postmaster General Burleson, Secretary McAdoo, and Secretary Tumulty. The President discussed the situation for the first time since the Maine election. The President stated that the results of the Maine election should arouse the Democrats throughout the country to action. An air of optimism invaded the conference. Today marked the opening of the President's new office at Asbury Park. The office is very simple, there are no rugs on the floor, the chairs are of the plainest as for his desk and swivel chair. They are all rented.

BRITISH COLUMBIA ELECTION.

Vancouver, B. C., Sept. 14.—The people of British Columbia are voting today as to whether the Bowser administration shall be continued in power or be replaced by a government in control of the Liberals. The contest, which has dragged along for more than a year, has been, in the language of Premier Bowser himself, "the dirtiest campaign in the history of this province." Charges of fraud, corruption and mismanagement of public affairs have been hurled back and forth, while the energy displayed on both sides has been out of all proportion to the issues involved.

At the present time the Conservatives are in control of the Provincial legislature by a large majority. The recent by-elections, however, resulted in the return of Liberal members, which encouraged the opposition to put forth their best efforts to win a victory in the general election. The Socialists also have been working with might and main to increase their representation in the legislature, where they have already secured a substantial foothold.

HELLO GIRL'S RECORD OF CALLS MADE IN 24 YEARS

Columbus, Ohio, Sept. 14.—(By United Press)—Two million, four hundred thousand conversations on love, business, gossip and whatnot is the record today of Miss Nell Taylor in the 24 years' continuous service as a hello girl here.

The first eight years she spent at the switchboard handling calls at the rate of 1,000 a day. She spent another eight years as supervisor, answering foolish questions.

"Will you marry me?" she says, is the silliest and most frequent question asked. She still is single and glad of it.

When she started to work 24 years ago Miss Taylor was 15. There were only 1550 telephones in Columbus then, as compared to 45,000 today.

The trade of the United States with Mexico is the largest in history, the value of imports showing a big increase, though exports to Mexico are not so large. With the return of stable conditions in Mexico our trade should greatly increase.

PITIFUL STORY

BY WITNESSESOsceola Woman Temporarily

Children--Is Deaf Mute

CHILDREN TAKEN FROM HER

Judge Bell appointed A. Lee Edwards, Esq., Dr. A. C. Lynn and Squire Frank H. McCully a committee to inquire into the sanity of Mrs. Margaret Shannon, of Osceola, incident to proceedings brought by District Attorney Welch last Saturday.

Mrs. Shannon, a deaf mute and the mother of eleven children, six of whom are living, is feeble minded and according to the story of her neighbors, whose importunities moved the District Attorney to action, abused and neglected her children grossly and shamefully. Her husband is a carpenter and his work kept him away from home a great deal and during his absence the poor demented woman made life a veritable hell on earth for the little ones, all of whom are under fourteen years of age.

A part of the story was told the court and moved the spectators to tears and the appointment of the commission, which was requested by the husband followed. Pending the finding and report of the court the children will be taken in charge by the authorities and will later be placed in some home or institution.

There will be a dance in Miller's hall, Grampian, Saturday evening, the 16th. Good music and good order. S.13-2b.

"POOR LITTLE RICH GIRL"
GETS HOME AT LAST

Mrs. George S. Parker.

Romona Borden, daughter of the millionaire Gail Borden, married George S. Parks of Anderson, Ind., at Los Angeles the other day and thereby at last acquired a home. Three years ago, when seventeen years old, she ran away from a sanitarium in New Jersey with two Washington women and was later found in Boston. Because of differences between her father and mother she has not spent a great deal of time with either.

COURT NOTES.

In the case of Jack Henry who was suing D. W. Anderson for $700 claiming this amount to be due him on a timber contract, the jury returned a verdict in favor of Mr. Henry in the sum of $700 with interest to date amounting to over $100.

As we go to press the case of Frank Cimo, a local fruit merchant who is being sued by a DuBois wholesale house is occupying the attention of the court.

Mr. and Mrs. Curtin Taylor were visitors at the fair today.

THIRD DAY OF FAIR
IS ON WITH A BIG
VISITING LISTEvery Train Brings Throngs to

Offered by Management

Ball Game Was Very Warmly Contested and Phillipsburg went Down To Defeat—Mahaffey and Tyrone Play Here Tomorrow—Will be Good Game.

The second day of the Clearfield County Fair moved off without a hitch and with all attractions on the ground and in working order. Visitors to Clearfield are all very complimentary to the fair management on the straight forward way in which the fair is being conducted and it augers well for the future success of the fair and the probability of it being an annual institution.

It takes more than the management of a county fair to make it a success. All must pull together. Every farmer who has a nice specimen of animal life or a fine product should bring it in to the fair for the general good that it does for agriculture. Every citizen of Clearfield who has anything that would be interesting to show to somebody else is not boosting the fair unless he takes it to the fair grounds and places it on exhibition.

As we go to press the third day of the new fair is drawing to a close and it looks now as though we could safely say that the Fair has been a success. All attractions scheduled have been shown and there is commendation on every hand for the New County Fair.

The ball game yesterday was very hotly contested and while it was somewhat marred by pugilistic tactics on the part of those in the game it was thoroughly enjoyed by all. Clearfield won by a score of 7 to 3 and the score is as follows:

LORIMER FAILS

IN PRIMARIESMann, Republican House Leader
Defeats His Preacher Opponent in easy Contest

HEAVY REP. VOTE IN ILLINOIS

Chicago, Sept. 11.—(By United Press)—Former United States Senator, William Lorimer has fallen down in his "come back" race for congress today in complete returns early today from yesterday's state primaries showing he had lost to Arthur W. Fulton in the Republican congressional race in the Sixth District by about 1,000 votes.

"I admit defeat, it is the fortunes of the game," said Lorimer. "I have nothing to say—nothing to charge, I only wish I had won."

James R. Mann, Republican leader in the national house, swamped his preacher opponent, Rev. H. T. Boynton, in the Second Congressional district fight by a plurality of about 15,000. In the gubernatorial race Governor Dunne, Democrat and Col Lowden, Republican, were according to election returns today, certain that Dunne's plurality throughout the state amounted to 90,000. Lowden is the Republican nominee for governor at an estimate plurality of 100,000. The estimate of the total vote in Illinois indicate that more than 640,000 were cast. 400,000 by Republicans and 240,000 by Democrats. Approximately, 38,000 women cast their vote in yesterday election. The reason for the light vote cast being that women were allowed to vote mostly for local offices only. State returns indicate that Dunne's total vote is 153,000 and Lowden's 220,000.

LABOR CAN'T BE BOUGHT.

The defeat of Daniel J. McGillicuddy Democratic congressman from the Second District of Maine, is the first opportunity the people, and especially the labor men, have had to express their opinion of Mr. Wilson's course in compelling Congress to enact the Railway Wage increase bill.

Mr. McGillicuddy was a labor candidate, thrice elected by labor votes and he voted for the Wilson-Adamson bill, but that certainly did not save him. Of his defeat, the New York Times, which is supporting President Wilson, says: "The lesson is evident. The labor vote is cast just as other votes are cast. Trucking to it, abusing one's party before it, does not win. The mechanics of Bath and Auburn voted on the issues of the day, just as did the farmers of Oxford county. Mr. Hughes' denunciation of the strike settlement, even his apparent hostility to the eight-hour principle, did not avail to arouse the unions of Sagadahoc against him." Of course the Times knows Mr. Hughes is not opposed to the eight-hour principle. As Governor he was strongly for it. What he does oppose is a simple effort to secure increased pay masquerading as a promotion of the eight-hour principle.

Dr. David Starr Jordan says American advocates of peace in Europe have drawn a definite plan, but the trouble is the war is not being waged on the American plan.—Savannah News.

LASTING PEACE

SAYS BRIANDTells Chamber of Deputies That Only Stands Teutons are Making Defensive

ENG. RETREAT FROM STRUMA

Paris, Sept. 14.—(By United Press)—"A lasting and durable peace is assured by the allied victories which are making the Teutons only stand a defensive," Premier Briand declared today in reviewing before the Chamber of Deputies that more power has been gained since the last session—"the intervention of Roumania and Italy's declaration of war against Germany has completed the solidarity of the action of the allies against the Teutons." The allies are invading Greece merely to protect their expedition corps and for the conservation of Greece itself.

London, Sept. 14.—(By United Press)—Military leaders of the Central powers are planning a strong Balkan offensive according to dispatches received here today. The plan which was formulated at the Kaiser's war convention in Berlin today will favor the sending of 2,000 Germans and 1,000 Austrians to the southeast front.

The German press bureau has announced that the Germans are planning an offensive along Macedonia, and are ready to attack Serbian and Italian forces. It had become known that the British have withdrawn from their position along the Struma river after heavy casualties. The British are making progress toward Ginchy forcing the Germans to retreat, according to allied advices.

With that pleasing bit of Irish and humor and Irish song from Killarney Rose, the operatic for Clearfield was opened a week. It is not too late to say that Al Wilson pleased his audience last week with his delightful rendered Irish love songs. On account of the very warm evening the fact that there were so many other attractions in town the house was not exceptionally large but was comfortably filled and entertainment was of the high class and merit. The singing of H. Wilson is the kind that you wish with its charm, sweetness and mirthful melody.

Uncle Tom's Cabin was well received and it too drew the usual crowd. People can always be depended upon to go to see Uncle Tom's Cabin and Little Eva. The story is old but will never wear out.

Tonight a rollicking musical comedy will draw a capacity house. Million Dollar Doll has the reputation of being the brightest, gayest, songiest show on the road and prices are popular. The show is a great hit when here before and speed limits are cast aside. The Million Dollar Doll. Features extraordinary, fancy new songs and the illuminated way is bound to make a hit.

Theatre goes will start the off right tonight by going to Million Dollar Doll and after that they will be treated to the Pat, Lost in New York, Star Lady Luxury, LeRoy, Taboo, Bosco and Fair and Warner. They are only a few of the good shows already booked.

In addition to opera and operetta the Globe theatre continues to get the best of pictures for those who prefer the movie form of amusement.

THE NEW YORK STRIKE

New York Sept. 14.—(By United Press)—While reports were given in that five street cars being operated by strike breakers were filled to grade with nine persons injured, traction company reiterated its refusal to arbitrate their dispute with the unionists. A general held this morning in which thousands of union men marched in support of the fight for the organization. A band led the parade which marched Eighty-sixth street to Union Square where a mass meeting was held. The police report that 7,000 were in the parade. The unionists claim there were more. THE OLDEST LIGHTHOUSE

Boston, Mass., Sept. 14.—Boston Light, the first lighthouse built in America, today rounded out a career of 200 years of continuous service. It is one of the most important lighthouse stations on the North Atlantic coast and is known to every sailor-man and seagoer on this side of the globe. The lighthouse was built in 1716 and the light first "kindled" on Sept. 14 of that year. The lighthouse has been several times burned and rebuilt and during the Revolution it was destroyed by the British when they evacuated Boston.

IF BACKACHE OR KIDNEYS BOTHER

Eat Less Meat Also Take Glass of Salts Before Eating Breakfast

Uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish, ache, and feel like lumps of lead. The urine becomes cloudy; the bladder is irritated, and you may be obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night. When the kidneys clog you must help them flush off the body's urinous waste or you'll be a real sick person shortly. At first you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, you suffer from backache, sick headache, dizziness, stomach gets sour, tongue coated and you feel rheumatic twinges when the weather is bad.

Eat less meat, drink lots of water; also get from any pharmacist four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity, also to neutralize the acids in the urine, so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active. Druggists, here say they sell lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble.

Don't Crowd Your Ad.

By BREEN.

Some advertisers make the mistake of trying to crowd a page of type into a few inches.

Display your ad. Make it catchy.

If you buy a few inches in a newspaper don't try to make them carry a couple of hundred words. Newspaper readers will not wear strong glasses to read small type.

When you decide to advertise a certain article pick out its best points. Then briefly tell what they are. Emphasize in big type.

Then you'll get results.

As noted in the Progress a few days ago, concerning the scrap from Wallacetown, a preliminary hearing was held at Clearfield where several of our town folks were witnesses. When Lieutenant Best was mustering in recruits for his mounted machine gun troop at Bealshurg two of our boys, Ben Milligan and Weigand Flegel got the spirit of the call and hot-footed to join this company. Ben is now a full fledged member, while his pal has returned home after a short time working near there at a farm hand.

The Johnson family took an auto ride over the mountain on Sunday to make a call on friends and relatives. Eugene Dixon had a visit from the stork the other day—a new arrival at his home.

Mrs. Frank McElsh of Tyrone is visiting in our burg.

Owing to the decree of State Health Commissioner Dr. Dixon of Harrisburg to not open the public schools, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Comfort are still in our city. Mr. Comfort is professor of science and owner of all articles at the Fifth Avenue High School at Harrisburg. His continued ability to keep this school open shows that he is the right man in the right place.

EMPTY PHRASES INSTEAD OF CONCRETE ACTION.

Not once has President Wilson squarely placed before the American people the question which Abraham Lincoln put before the American people in 1860; what is our duty? Not once has he appealed to moral idealism, to the stern enthusiasm of strong men for the right. On the contrary, he has employed every elocutionary device to lull to sleep our sense of duty, to make us content with words instead of deeds, to make our moral idealism and enthusiasm evaporate in empty phrases instead of being reduced to concrete action.—From the speech of Col. Theodore Roosevelt, delivered at Lewiston, Maine, in behalf of Charles E. Hughes.

Telling Tariff Points

Let these telling points on tariff and protection in the speech by Charles Evans Hughes, the Republican candidate for President, delivered in the Salt Lake Tabernacle, be fixed permanently in your mind and memory during the remainder of the campaign:

We are desirous of having strong and sure the foundations of our national greatness in this pursuit of competition among the nations which is sure to follow the cessation of the present struggle.

I presume that the Republican party as the national party, according to the constitution of the United States, within the national sphere, shall proceed wherever it is practicable, to build up and foster and encourage American enterprise, and open the doors wide for honest American achievement.

Then came the Underwood tariff bill itself. What was the result? Enterprise lapsed and there was a construction of trade throughout the land, and America, instead of going ahead, stopped. That is what happened. Three hundred thousand were unemployed in the City of New York. There was not a city in this land where the jobless man anxious and able to work did not walk the streets. They were fed by our charitable organizations, which were taxed to the utmost limit to provide for those for whom American enterprise could no longer make provision. It was a sad spectacle. Americans have not forgotten it. It is not forgotten here or anywhere. It cannot be forgotten. It is too recent.

If you are going to have the basis for prosperity in this country; if you are going to protect the American wage scale; if you are going to have American enterprise able to meet the competition which will follow the ending of this war, you must have an honestly devised, wisely framed tariff law to protect American industry.

No, the Democratic party will not be saved by the European war. If you would know what our condition will be when the war ends, think of what our condition was before that war began. If you think these nations are so impoverished that they cannot again turn to work. These millions of men now fighting are better able to work than ever before in their lives. * * * Their factories are there; their plants are there; they know themselves better than ever before. They are better disciplined, more alert, keener, stronger, better physically than ever before, in the main, and they are ready to turn great national energies into the pursuits of peace to pay their war bills, to produce up to the limit, to send their goods throughout the world.

I propose that we shall study this out, applying a principle that we believe in, and secure intelligently and honestly adequate protection to American industries in every part of this land.

WHY HUGHES IS NEEDED IN THIS TREMENDOUS CRISIS.

Against Mr. Wilson's combination of grace in education with facility in action against his record of words unbacked by deeds or backed by deeds, we see Mr. Hughes' rugged and uncompromising straightforwardness of character and action in every office he has held. We put the man who thinks and speaks directly, and whose words have always been made good, against the man whose adroit and facile eloquence is used to conceal his plans or his want of plans. The next four years may well be years of tremendous national strain. Which of the two men do you, the American people, wish at the helm during those four years; the man who has been actually tried and found wanting, or the man whose whole career in public office is a guarantee of his power and good faith? But one answer is possible and it must be given by the American people throughout the United States.—From speech of Col. Theodore Roosevelt, delivered at Lewiston, Maine, in behalf of Charles E. Hughes.

WILSON KISSED THE HAND RED WITH AMERICAN BLOOD.

President Wilson explicitly shows that the Carranzistas, not once but repeatedly, made attacks on American towns, and killed American citizens, and mutilated them in September, 1915. Yet on October 19th, 1915, less than a month later, this same President Wilson, through his same Secretary of State, formally announced to Carranza's agent that it was his "pleasure" to take the opportunity of extending recognition to the de facto government of Mexico, of which General Venustiano Carranza is the chief executive. President Wilson thus recognized the government which, his own Secretary of State declares, had been less than a month previously engaged in repeated assaults upon Americans, and in the invasion of American soil, the government at whose head was General Carranza, who, less than two months previously, on August 2nd, 1915, had contemptuously refused to pay any heed to any representations of President Wilson on behalf of mediation, saying that "under no consideration would I permit interference in the internal affairs of Mexico." President Wilson did not merely kiss the hand that slapped him in the face. He kissed that hand when it was red with the blood of American men, women and children, who had been murdered and mutilated with, as President Wilson, through his Secretary of State, says, "unfathomable brutality."—From the speech of Col. Theodore Roosevelt, delivered at Lewiston, Maine, in behalf of Charles E. Hughes.

(N. Y.) SUN STROKES.

Roger Sullivan steps aside.—News-peter headline.

Students of Democratic politics know what a thin line divides stepping aside and snuffing.

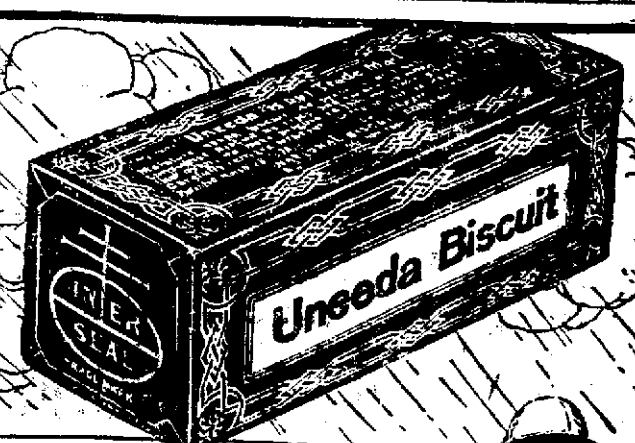

The Democrats seem to realize, to their dismay, that if they can't persuade Mr. Hughes to change from plaintiff to defendant the case is lost.

The President "will not take the stump" but will accept invitations to speak at different places.—Chairman Vance determined as usual to tell us as much as possible.

It is not what Wilson has kept out of, but what he has put into the national present.

CONGRATULATE GARNETSON.

Cedar Rapids, Ia., Sept. 14.—Hundreds of members of the Brotherhood of Railway Conductors throughout the country were their greetings today to Austin B. Garnetson, the president of the order, congratulating him on his birthday and the success of his leadership in the recent movement to secure the eight-hour day.

Today is Mr. Garnetson's sixtieth birthday anniversary. He is a native and life long resident of Iowa, and has been his railroad career in this state. As far back as 1880 he held a position in the office of railway conductors. But he was not satisfied with that position and he has been prominent in a national way, serving on the Federal railroad commission, and as a member of the executive committee of the National Brotherhood of Railway Conductors.

SAYS HOT WATER EACH DAY KEEPS THE DOCTOR AWAY

Life is not merely to live, but to live well, eat well, digest well, work well, sleep well, look well. What a glorious condition to attain, and yet how very easy it is if one will only adopt the morning toilet bath.

Felks who are accustomed to feel dull and heavy when they arise, splitting headache, stuffy from a cold, foul tongue, nasty breath, indigestion, can, instead, feel as fresh as a daisy, by opening the sluices of the system, each morning and flushing out the whole of the internal poisonous stagnant matter.

Everyone, whether ailing, sick or well, should, each morning, before breakfast, drink a glass of real hot water with a teaspoonful of lime phosphate in it. To wash from the stomach, liver, kidney, and bowels the previous day's indigestible waste, and life and poison out of the system. It is a splendid remedy for constipation, and a fine alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach. The action of hot water and lime phosphate on an empty stomach is wonderfully invigorating. It cleanses all the organs, fortifies them, restores waste and activity, and gives one a splendid appetite for breakfast. When you are enjoying your breakfast, the water and phosphate is quietly extracting a large volume of water from the blood and getting ready for a thorough flushing of all the inside organs. The millions of people who are crowded with our riparian, sedentary, stomach trouble, rheumatism, etc., who have catarrh, indigestion, blood disorders, and sickly complexion, arranged to get a quarter point of lime phosphate from the drug store, which will cost very little, but will still be a most potent and recommended remedy for the relief of all internal ailments.

PROPOSES TO STOP BRITISH BLACKLIST BY SPECIAL LAW

Buenos Aires, Sept. 14.—(By United Press.)—Representative Avellaneda is waging a vigorous fight in the Argentine congress for passage of a bill, introduced by himself, prohibiting in this country all commercial practices of the nature involved in the British blacklist of enemy firms in business in foreign countries.

For violation of the terms of prohibition, the bill provides a maximum fine of 2,000 pesos, ($400), imprisonment up to six months and cancellation of the offending firm's charter to do business in the country.

Avellaneda is co-speaker of the Argentine house of representatives and one of the most influential of its members. His bill is considered by some as an excellent chance of adoption.

MARSHALL TO BE NOTIFIED OF HIS RENOMINATION

Indianapolis, Sept. 14.—(By United Press.)—Democrats from every state gathered here today for the formal notification tonight of Vice President Marshall that he has been renominated for that place by the Democratic party. National Chairman Woodrow Wilson and western leaders were also to confer on the political situation.

Martin H. Glynn, ex-governor of New York, will deliver the notification address tonight at the Madison hall. Governor Ralston will preside.

AMERICAN LIFE CONVENTION

The American Life Convention, which is being held at the Hotel Hamilton in New York, is a gathering of the most prominent leaders of the American life movement. The convention is being held for the purpose of discussing the life movement and its application to the American people.

VILLA AIDED BY WILSON'S FAVOR AND BACKING

In March last, Villa made a raid into American territory. He was a bandit leader, whose career of successful infamy had been greatly aided by Mr. Wilson's favor and backing. He was at the head of Mexican soldiers, whose arms and munitions had been supplied to them in consequence of Mr. Wilson's reversing Mr. Taft's policy and lifting the embargo against arms and munitions into Mexico. They attacked Columbus, New Mexico, and killed a number of civilians and a number of United States troops. On the next day the president issued an announcement that adequate forces would be sent in pursuit of Villa (with the single object of capturing him). On April 8th, the announcement was made from the White House that the troops would remain in Mexico until Villa was captured. It was furthermore announced in the press dispatches from Washington that he was to be taken "dead or alive." Fine words! Only they meant nothing. He is not dead. He has not been taken alive. From speech of Col. Theodore Roosevelt, delivered at Lewiston, Maine, in behalf of Charles E. Hughes.

Mr. Wilson during the past few days has become such a life-long opponent of the pork barrel that he is almost sorry now he didn't burn some of those bills.

Secretary McAdoo warns Treasury employees against too much political activity, and if they don't display the order they are likely to be boozed.

A HEARTLESS ADMINISTRATION

This Administration has displayed no more feeling of responsibility for the American women who have been raped, and for the American men, women and children who have been killed in Mexico, than a farmer shows for the rats killed by his dogs when the hay is taken from a barn. And now the American people are asked to sanction this policy in the name of peace, righteousness and humanity. From the speech of Col. Theodore Roosevelt, delivered at Lewiston, Maine, in behalf of Charles E. Hughes.

TRUTHFUL CHAMP CLARK.

"We got whipped, and I guess that is all I will say about the Maine election. We got beaten good and plenty." This is the statement of Champ Clark, Democratic speaker of the House, a statement as honest and truthful as the sophistical distortions of Chairman Vance McCormick, Josephus Daniels and other illustrious Democrats are the reverse. Senator Vardaman of Mississippi appears to have lost his temper over the result and to find an outlet for his ill-nature in abusing the Progressives. His comment on the Maine election is characteristic. He says, "The Progressive sow has returned to her wallow." Judging by the comments of Progressives in New York, Mr. Vardaman has done nothing to make votes for Mr. Wilson among any Progressives who may have been undetermined as to how they would vote by his calling the Progressives swine, even though he may be credited with frankness in thus bluntly expressing the sentiment which Wilsonites generally entertain for the Progressives.

A WILSON GOLD BRICK.

"I sign this bill with real emotion because I know what it means to the health and vigor of the country and to the happiness of those whom it affects. It is with genuine pride that I play my part in completing this legislation. I congratulate the country and felicitate myself." This was the statement of President Wilson as, seated before the movie camera, he signed the Child Labor Bill. And now the bill he signed proves to be a fraud and a fake. It forbids shipment out of a state of the product of a cannery, mill, factory, etc., "in which, within thirty days prior to the removal of such product" from the cannery, factory or mill, etc., children have been employed or permitted to work. Therefore, all the canner, mill operator or manufacturer need do is to hold his product of child labor for thirty days and he can ship it where he pleases. There is nothing in the law to prevent. To canneries, which employ great numbers of children, this law will prove especially convenient. Canneries pack their product during an extremely short season. Under Mr. Wilson's widely advertised Child Labor Law, they can pursue their normal course and need only follow their customary practice of holding their goods thirty days before shipment, to escape the prohibition of the law. It was one of Mr. Wilson's Democratic henchmen in the Senate who substituted this provision for the really effective provision which had been adopted in the house. The effort of the Wilson administration to deceive the public into believing that the Democratic administration had passed and the President had signed a real Child Labor Law, when in fact it has done nothing of the kind, has served to recall the fact that before he entered the White House Mr. Wilson denounced the utilization of the commerce clause of the Constitution to regulate child labor in the most scathing terms, and serves to confirm the Republican contention that he had fathered a fake bill merely to gain votes on election day.

CURWENSVILLE NEWS

Mrs. J. G. Fullerton attended the funeral of James Dumbleton at Philipsburg yesterday.

Mr. Sanford, division superintendent of the Adams Express company, visited the office here yesterday.

Douglas Dunsmore is home for a short visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alex Dunsmore, Meadow street.

Messrs. Walter Fullerton and Joseph Vesco have returned from their Canadian trip. On their way back they stopped over at Detroit and visited the Ford automobile works.

Messrs. Clyde Gates and Harry Kittleberger, employees of the Curwensville Plumbing and Heating company, are at McGees Mills this week installing a heating furnace and bath room for a resident of that place.

Governor Brumbaugh and his party passed through Curwensville yesterday morning between the hours of eight and nine o'clock. Some of the motors did not hold down exactly to the borough speed limit. The party were enroute to Pottsville.

William Wilson, secretary of labor in President Wilson's cabinet, accompanied by several ladies, arrived in Curwensville yesterday forenoon and stopped at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Dunsmore, on Meadow street. Mr. Wilson is a brother of Mrs. Dunsmore.

Curwensville has almost depopulated yesterday owing to the fact that so many people went to the county seat to attend the second day of the big and attractive fair. A large crowd will also meander in that direction today to be present at the last and biggest day of the exhibition.

James F. Rider has branched out in the coal trade. He delivers from the Addleman bank, and there is no better coal to be had for home use in this vicinity. He is having a phone installed at his home where persons who are in need of coal can easily reach him. A fair trial is all that he asks.

Squire John A. Dale is one of the busiest men in Curwensville and takes care of many responsible trusts. He is secretary of the Red Men's lodge, the Knights of Pythias, clerk of the council and secretary of the building and loan association, besides being administrator, guardian, executor and a number of other things that require accurate clerical work.

Today, at about eleven o'clock, Dugan Bennett, and Miss Ruth McElhiney, both of Mahaffey, were united in the bonds of wedlock, at the parlors of the Lutheran parsonage, by Rev. Hawkins, pastor of the Grace Lutheran church. In the evening at Hartfeld, led a young lady of his choice to the altar and was wedded by the same minister. At this writing we were unable to obtain the name of the bride.

Boyd Farley, who spent several days this week visiting his parents, went to Philipsburg yesterday morning where he was joined by his fiancée and together they proceeded to Philipsburg and were quietly married yesterday afternoon. The young couple will go immediately to Akron, O., where Mr. Farley has a home. Miss Edie Klett, of Philipsburg, and quite well known in Curwensville, is having lived here during the time her father, Samuel Klett, kept the Fillet street restaurant.

The cleaning up process throughout the town is still going on, and another week's time the job will be completed as far as the private citizen can accomplish it. The Herald and Progress both deserve some credit for the part they took in agitating this clean-up movement so that it became general so that it did not rest altogether on the shoulders of the board of health and borough council. There are yet some spots that need attention, and the sooner that the garbage and filth is removed the better it will be for all concerned.

An unwarranted report was circulating along the street line last evening that Curwensville would soon be close on the heels of a water famine. Unless Providence intervened soon, and re-filled the stream of Anderson's creek. In tracing the report to a finish, your correspondent found out from a most reliable source that there was nothing to it, and the patrons of the line need have no fear anything like that happening for a long time, if ever. There is yet a good supply in the reservoir and more held in reserve where it came from. A good many towns are suffering for sufficient water, but Curwensville is not numbered with any of them.

The question of a scarcity of dwelling houses in Curwensville was never more forcibly illustrated to the writer than when he had an occasion to visit an office of a man last evening who handles the renting of properties. In less than an hour he had application for ten houses, and was unable to furnish a single one. He stated that hardly a day passes but what one to four persons do not call and inquire of him for empty houses. Three years ago Curwensville had houses aplenty for everybody, but today the supply of empties is inadequate. In this town there are more than a dozen men who have surplus capital, and from a financial point of view, they could not invest their coin to a more profitable advantage. Get busy and build eight or ten double houses for rent.

THE RIGHTS OF AMERICAN CITIZENS DO NOT STOP AT THE COAST LINE.

"When I say that I am an American citizen, I ought to say the proudest thing that any man can say in this world. But you can't have that pride if American citizenship is a cheap thing, if it is not worthy of protection this wide world over. There is no man who could successfully present to an American community the platform that an American citizen's rights stop at the coast line and that beyond that American life is to be the prey of any marauder who chooses to take it."—From a speech of Mr. Hughes in the West.

TELL HOW WOMEN VOTERS WILL CONTROL POLITICS

Congressional Union Leaders Explain the Movement in Opposition to President Wilson.

Just how the decision of the women's party to oppose President Wilson for re-election is expected to change the national political situation was explained in a statement by suffrage leaders at the headquarters of the Congressional Union for Women's Suffrage at Washington.

It was pointed out that unless he wins the West the defeat of Mr. Wilson "seems inevitable."

Needed to Offset Loss of Ohio.

To counteract the loss of Ohio alone, which, judging from indications at the primaries, will go with its twenty-four electoral votes to the Republican count, the Democrats will have to win in the West, California, with its thirteen electoral votes; Nevada, with three; Colorado, with six, and Arizona, with three, women's party representatives here asserted.

"In Idaho the Progressive party is dissolved," they continue, "so that the Democrats will have to work hard to get any electoral votes there. Illinois is practically conceded to the Republicans. In the view of women's party members, three-fourths or more of the Progressives there having returned to the Republican ranks."

Conditions in Other States.

"In Kansas the Progressives and Republicans are practically one again. In Montana there is great dissatisfaction over the proposed Democratic tax on copper. Oregon and Washington are expected to go Republican. These two states were hit hard by the Panama Canal tolls act and the Democratic tariff is seriously felt by the lumber industry there. Utah is considered safe by the Republicans. In Wyoming the Progressives and Republicans have joined hands."

WhyExcessive upkeep

When the venerable American bird on the back of that shiny-piece in your pocket cries out against the high cost of flivving, you wanta adjust your goggles, pull down your vest and look the matter squarely in its good eye. Poor lubrication, with its direct relation to so many car-troubles, is the first line of trenches to be taken in the Battle against Excessive Upkeep.

Just as Atlantic Gasoline, the accepted standard, was the answer to your fuel problems, so Atlantic Motor Oils are the answer to your lubrication problems.

For eight out of ten cars, Atlantic Polarine is exactly right. Under certain conditions, and with certain types of motors, one of the other three principal motor oils—Atlantic "Light," Atlantic "Medium" or Atlantic "Heavy"—may give better results. Your garageman will tell you which to use. The important thing to nail to your memory is that one of these four oils, at any rate, is the correct lubricant for your particular car. This statement is backed by a corps of oil experts in the employ of the oldest and largest lubricant manufacturers in the whole world. They know oils, and they know cars, too. Better take their advice and use Atlantic Motor Oils.

Read up on this subject. We have published a handsome and comprehensive book about lubrication. It is free. Ask your garage for it. If they cannot supply you drop us a postal and the book will be sent you without charge.

OPEN EVENINGS UNTIL 9 O'CLOCK.

Clearfield, Penna.

By Hamilton

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

New York, Sept. 14.—John K. Tener, president of the National League, is one man who doesn't understand why every young pitcher who goes into the big leagues is admonished, even after he becomes a veteran, "take your time."

"The best of the pitchers, men who have made baseball history, did not do it," Tener said today, "and if there is any thing in following an effective man's method to gain the same sort of effectiveness, the young pitcher is gaining nothing by taking his time."

Tener pointed out that when a pitcher begins to grow nervous, when the opposition begins to pick the ball for base hits, the fans begin to roar:

"Take your time!"

"And it was not done by any of the famous pitchers," he said.

By way of proving his contention Tener picked out Radbourne, McGinnity, Mathewson, Rube, Rucker, Miner Brown, and Alexander, present day marvel.

"They all worked fast," he said. "Mathewson was one of the fastest workers I ever saw and McGinnity, Radbourne and Rube were all speedy workers. Alexander, who holds a world record for shutout victories in one season, is a fast worker."

"Perhaps, if the fans were aware of these facts they might cry out for the pitcher to speed up when the game went wrong."

Tener was quite a marvel as a pitcher himself back in the days when baseball was just beginning to make its popularity reach a high spot. So he was asked how he worked.

"Well," he replied, "I wasn't a speedy pitcher, but I noticed that I always worked better when I worked fast."

Tener made no attempt to give a reason for the effectiveness of the pitcher who worked fast, but he admitted that a great many slow working pitchers, probably, are just as effective as the men who fire rapidly from the mound.

"I never took the trouble to notice any slow pitching men and study their effectiveness as a class," he said. "However, I have noticed that a great many of those who took their time on the mound didn't last a long time in the big show. I guess their arms got colder than if they worked with some 'pep'."

So, if Tener's judgment is worth anything it might be well for the rookie pitcher to study effectiveness while working at a fast pace. Anyway, he will have the consolation of knowing that some of the game's greatest workers were men who used rapid fire tactics in putting the ball up to the batter.

Heinie Zimmerman, who recently was traded to the New York Giants by the Cubs, declares he is supremely happy in his new surroundings. Heinie is a resident of New York and probably would rather play at the Polo grounds, where he is idolized to a certain extent by Bronx fans.

Mike Mowery, who was unconditionally released by the Pirates, and then was taken up by the Dodgers, is playing the best baseball of his career. He is fielding like a demon and hit hitting has been at the most opportune moments.

TAFT AT 60TH MILESTONE.

New Haven, Conn., Sept. 14.—William H. Taft former president of the United States, will enter upon his sixtieth year tomorrow, and a number of congratulations on that event are currently being received at his home in this city. Following the close of the summer vacation, Mr. Taft is preparing to resume his duties as lecturer at the Yale law school. So far as is known he does not intend to take any active part in the present national campaign.

FOR CONVENTION OF HORSEMEN

Syracuse, N. Y., Sept. 14.—A proposal to hold a great convention of horsemen to consider problems of common interest and concern was presented here today at the annual meeting of the New York State Association of Horsemen. The convention, which probably will be held later in the fall, will be for the purpose of discussing improved highways, questions of breeding, traffic problems and a variety of other subjects affecting the interests of the horsemen.

Pity the Man Who Doesn't Advertise!

By ETEEN.

"I have an established business. I don't require advertising."

That is the answer of some self satisfied man to a request for advertising. Meanwhile his progressive neighbor is using printer's ink lavishly.

The result is obvious. It's only a question of time. The self satisfied business man soon finds his trade disappearing. His progressive neighbor goes ahead with leaps and bounds. Every business, no matter how firmly established, needs advertising. If it isn't advertised it soon will be in a rut. Don't get in a rut. Advertise.

THAT FULL DINNER PAID.

Relaying foolishly upon the full dinner pail to accomplish for them what it has so often accomplished for the Republican party, the Democrats proceed to pile extravagance upon extravagance and to make flabby claims of being at peace, even when we are at war, says the Detroit Journal.

For the dinner pail has been filled with munition money, which presently must be supplanted by the true coinage of protected American industry after the war.

And while the dinner pail is full, observe with what inflated foods. This administration promised the worker a lower cost of living. But, as a matter of fact, to the worker Democratic prosperity is a false prosperity. It is a mirage.

Every man with a dinner pail knows that, unless his wages have been increased 20 per cent. under Democratic munition prosperity, he is poorer than he was four years ago. For Wilson rents are from 20 to 40 per cent. higher; the Wilson meat, the Wilson sugar and the Wilson wool are 40 per cent. higher, and the Wilson steel and tin and household goods are from 20 to 40 per cent. higher.

The Wilson bread has advanced faster than the Wilson wage, and the Wilson taxes have risen higher than the Wilson prosperity.

Democracy may have enriched the munition manufacturer, but has it enriched the worker, whose cost of living has increased faster than his earnings?

If the Administration can re-elect itself on the ground that the worker is obliged to move out of his home into an inferior one, or has to double up in tenements and to take in boarders to make up for his loss of economic advantage under the present increased cost of living, then there is no reason why the Administration should not be as extravagant in its taxes as it chooses.

ONE YEAR AGO IN THE WAR.

Sept. 14, 1916.—Russian offensive along Sereth forced Russians across Strypa; Violent artillery fighting on both sides of the German angle in France; Allies' aviators bombarded German barracks in Belgium, France and Lorraine; German Government declared evidence pointed to destruction of Hesperian by a mine, not by a German submarine.

The Flag and the Man.

ARIZONA MURDERER TO HANG.

Phoenix, Ariz., Sept. 14.—After battling in the courts for three years in a futile effort to escape the noose, Robert Talley, convicted of murder, is to be executed in the state prison tomorrow unless granted a further respite by action of the state board of pardons.

Talley's crime was the murder of Jesse Danner in Miami in 1913. The victim of the tragedy was the father of the girl with whom Talley was infatuated. The attentions of Talley to his daughter were discouraged by Danner and he sent the girl to El Paso in order to remove her from Talley's influence.

The night of the shooting, Talley learned that his former sweetheart had been married the day before in El Paso. Returning to his home Talley procured his gun and started out to find Danner. Meeting his victim in the main street of the town Talley opened fire and mortally wounded Danner.

FOOD COMPANY ACCUSED

Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 14.—Hearings are to begin before the Federal Trade Commission here today on a complaint recently issued against the Shredded Wheat company of Niagara Falls. The complaint was brought by the Ross Food company which alleges that the Niagara Falls concern sought to force it out of business.

Big Business Recognizes Publicity

By ETEEN.

In latter years the biggest enterprises in this country have recognized the value of advertising. The charge of the advertising campaigns are splendid places. No branch of the business receives more publicity and advertising from the keynote of success.

If big business and advertising doesn't, business need it?

Every man in business needs advertising. If his business is a success he needs advertising to keep it so. If his business is struggling, advertising is the only way to save it up.

Complete Exhibit of What's Stylish, Beautiful and Worthy In Autumn
Millinery, Garments and Fabrics

Friday Evening, September 15, From 7:30 to 10

Thayer's Orchestra will entertain you on Friday Evening. Opening continues Saturday, Sep. 16.
Everyone is cordially invited to attend this unfolding of Fall Styles.

Stepping From The Book of Fashion---Fall Season's Most Distinguished Examples

Inspired by our keen desire to at once create even more enthusiasm than developed on the first day of our Fall Opening Display of a year ago, we have this year elaborated upon it, first by broadening the number of authentic models in apparel and second by showing greater distinction and novelty features in the examples around which closely clings that unmistakable air which marks an epoch in this important series of Annual Events.

The effort has, we believe, been wholly successful and we submit the results to you confidently. Modes which, on mature deliberation were not considered worthy because lacking the strength of new and featured touches, were discarded and many so-called "popular" ideas were rejected in favor of models whose greater distinctiveness was readily apparent. Therefore, we say in the large print above "Stepping From the Book of Fashion Here Are the Fall Season's Most Distinguished Examples." Welcome to the Showing.

COATS WHOSE GRACEFUL LINES REVEAL RARE DISTINCTION.

Coats and wraps for dress, street, motor and traveling wear in a large selection of attractive fabrics such as Bolivia cloth, Hindu Lynx, Velours, Plush mixtures, plaids and checks, in the swinging loose models, with full flare skirts, large collars, some are trimmed with fur. These and others are shown, all rich, but right in price—$9.75 to $45.

Fall Millinery With a Captivating Charm

Exquisite and tasty are these ideal creations. Pattern hats from Paris, the starting point for ideal creations in millinery.

Then—our own workrooms furnish an endless array of bewitching copies—executed most carefully by trained fingers. You couldn't spend a few moments or a half hour to better advantage for it's indeed a beauty show.

Heart to Heart Talk

This is a store of action as well as words—a store where no false note is struck to inspire a confidence which may afterward be shaken perhaps through our failure to live up to the proposed purpose and intent.

Only by doing can we expect to proceed and progress. Performance is the thing that counts. Activity accomplishes. Inaction means reaction. To carry out the thought means to carry forward the business. Unless this store inspires confidence by its words—and maintains it by action afterward—it is on the wrong track and had best turn back without delay. This is a Store of Action as well as Words.
